■ Emollients – Performance Oils

INCI NAME: CANOLA OIL (OR) OLUS OIL

LIPEX[®] Bassol C[™]

This clear, high stability oil derived from non-GMO Swedish canola crops offers an excellent alternative to low spreading synthetic emollients.

Lipex Bassol C is a superior quality canola-based oil offering high oxidative stability and low color and odor. It eliminates the common challenges experienced when creating formulations with vegetable oils and provides an excellent base for eco-friendly, clean beauty applications

Sourced from renewable, non-GMO canola crops traceable to Swedish farms, it is a sustainable alternative to low-spreading synthetic emollients and is suitable for cold processing.

Key features and benefits:

- High oxidative stability provides long shelf life.
- The low color and odor mean Lipex Bassol C does not influence the color and fragrance of the final product.
- Produced from high-quality canola oil sourced from renewable, non-GMO crops traceable to Swedish farms, Lipex Bassol C offers a sustainable, environmentally friendly alternative to low-spreading synthetic emollients.
- Excellent safety profile and high stability make it suitable as a base emollient for all skin care formulations, including baby care and those targeted at sensitive and delicate skin.

High stability – long shelf life

In an oxidative stability test comparing three canola-based oils with different concentrations of polyunsaturated fatty acids (PUFAs), Lipex Bassol C had the highest oxidative stability (OSI) and the longest shelf life.

Typical use concentrations:

- 1–15% for skin care
- 1–4% for hair care
- 2–10% for lip care
